

India To Export Raw Sugar For First Time In Three Years As Global Prices Rally

Indian mills traditionally produce white sugar for local consumption, but this year they are planning to export raw sugar as the country faces a surplus harvest for the second straight year